Digging Spruce Gum. There will be a crusade in spruce gum digging in the Maine woods this winter. About twenty men will leave Skowhegan within a short time to begin gum digging operations near Jackman. Gum has grown scarce in the last few years and the demand is so great that it has become a business to many Maine men. Last year James Carey, Frank Croning and Joe Cass dug 1,300 pounds and sold it all in Maine. It is estimated that from 50,-000 to 100,000 pounds will be dug this

Danville Judge Orders Prosecutor to Answer All Questions Put by Jury in Bribe Quiz.

Danville, Ill.-Judge Kimbrough in the circuit court handed down a decision in the case of City Attorney Jones, who declined to answer certain questions regarding vote selling and buying which the grand jury put to

The court instructed Jones to answer all questions. The opinion stated that, according to a decision of the Supreme court of the United States, a witness before the grand jury is immune from indictment. The court also held that the city election law is unconstitutional, which means that Jones cannot be questioned about happenings more than eighteen months

This means that the investigation will continue until all the witnesses now summoned are examined. It is said that many indictments have been voted, but whether they are for vote selling is not known.

This elaboration in hair dressing is very becoming in the majority of cases, and those wemen who have once tried it realize the charm of it. Bands, decerated with embroideries and gorgeous with gold and jewels, predominate in hair ornaments. There are many other decorations, however, most of them designed to glitter or twinkle in the lights that shine by night. A plain ribbon or the shell barrette are favorites for day wear. No one should neglect to notice the little fringe of curls that hardly to be found, but the curls are placed wherever they will do the most found to be most effective in enhancing the beauty or the style of their wearer.

MANICURING DONE AT HOME

Few Implements Needed, the Chief Thing Being Constant Care and Attention.

You can train yourself to be your own manicure; there is no need to buy a book on the subject, nor is an elaborately-fitted manicure case necessary. Four implements suffice, and in fact three are all that are absolutely required-a pair of nail scissors, a nail file and a chamois-covered polisher will answer all purposes, but an orange stick may be added for keeping the cuticle or scarf-skin, back from the The nails should be kept just the length of the fingers and trimmed in an oval curve. After trimming the nails, push the scarf-skin down closely about the base, so that the lunula -commonly called the "half moon"shows distinctly. If the nails have been neglected, it will take time and patience to get them right; but a few weeks' attention daily will accomplish wonders. If the scarf-skin has grown upon the nail, do not trim it off, but push it carefully back, using the rounded tip of the file; if necessary, lift the skin from the nail, but avoid breaking it. A little polishing powder may be used once or twice a week and a light rubbing with the chamols polisher every day gives the finishing touch to manieuring.

FLIGHT OF ELIJAH

Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 19, 1911 Specially Arranged for This Paper

LESSON TEXT-1 Kings 18-41-19-21. Memory Verses 11-13. GOLDEN TEXT—"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."-

TIME The day after the scene on Mount Cormel, B. C. 909 (or 856-7), In the wilderness, and 40 yeards later on Horsis. PLACE-I. Jezreel, one of the royal residences, 20 miles northeast of Sa-maria. 2 The wilderness beyond Beer-sheba, 40 miles southwest of Jerusalem. 100 miles from Jezreel 3. Horeb, one of the mountains of Sinal.

In our last lesson we left Elijah running before Ahab's charlot from Carmel to Jezreel, one of the royal residences, while the blessed rain was refreshing the whole country, an emblem of what God would do spiritually for the nation. Elijah was too wise to enter the lair of the tigress. But Abab told dezebel. We can imagine the bitter objurgations which she poured upon her cowering husband for having stood quietly by while her prophets and Baal's prophets were being massacred by a rebellious people.

Then Jezebel, scornfully ignoring her husband, and undefeated, whatever may have happened to her prophets, in the intesity of her rage, bound berself by an oath like that of the forty Jews who bound themselves that they would not eat or drink till they had slain Paul and sent a messenger unto Elijah. She felt that Elliah was in her power. He fled and his servant went with him.

Elljah was a brave man if ever there was one, but he was not a braggadocio. He was brave enough to let the ignorant think he was a coward. Itis going was not a sign of cowardice, but of wisdom and common sense. Christ himself bade his disciples. "When we are persecuted in one city flee ye to another;" kindle the divine fires elsewhere, and there shall be two flames instead of one. "Eiliah files only when he has done the mighty work of God, and only when the life is in deadly peril which he would fain cave for future emergencies of service."

He went a day's fourney into the wilderness. He would be alone, without even his servant, in this Gethsemane, as Christ when he went in his agony to pray alone. He requested for himself that he might die. He had honed to accomplish the deliverance of the people, but he was terribly disappointed. Jezebel still had power. Heathenism would still flourish. All his efforts had been but trying to dam Niagara with bulrushes. "All thy billows have gone over me." He lay down and slept, utterly worn out, and God gave his beloved sleep and who knows what dreams and visions shone in the darkness. Rest for mind and body. God sent him a friend, Behold, then an angel touched him, God's messenger, human or angelte. More probably the latter "ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be theirs of salvation." Elliah's loneliness was broken. He was not forgotten.

The outward, visible manifestations of power, whether in the natural or spiritual world, while necessary in their time and place, are but the smaller results of the power that produced them. For instance, in the natural world, the storms however great, express but the slightest effects of the air, which gives life to all living beings, men, beasts, trees. This world without air would be as dead as the moon.

How feeble the lightning compared with the silent invisible work of electricity lighting our cities and homes, driving our machinery, carrying our messages over the wires. It used to be thought that the upheaval of the continents and the rearing of the great mountains was due to cataclysms and conflagrations and vast explosions of volcanic force. It has long been known that they are due only in part to these, but chiefly to the inconceivably slow modifications produced by water, and air and heat.

So long as all real progress in religion, in reform, in the coming of the kingdom of God. lies always in a change of will, of character, so long the change must be made by motives, and moral influences, not by force, "The lion shall He down with the lamb," but only when the lion's nature is so changed that it loves to eat grass like the ox, and does not want to eat the lamb.

Elijah was to return, not yet to Israel, but around it to the wilderness of Damascus. Damascus was on the borders of the desert. Here he would be beyond the dominions of Ahab. He was not for the present to enter into the scene of danger, but to do his work from without. Gradually better times came; and we find him in the kingdom, and the schools of the prophets flourishing. Anoint, It was customary to set apart, by anointing kings and prophets. It often means merely to set apart for some special service of God

Hazael was known as the confidential officer of Benhadad, king of Syria at that time. He was set apart to be the instrument of punishng Israel for their sins. He was the storm and the fire that went before the voice of the Lord.

It is for us to be cheered by God's method of cheering, and then to pass on the encouragement, and cheer others by the cheer whereby God has cheered us. The coach of the Harvard football team in an address to the students, said, "Cheering is the most important factor in the success of the team."

PAINFUL FINGER NAILS CURED

"I have suffered from the same trouble (painful finger nalls) at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of the finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a poultice to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two afterwards. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail. I had sometimes as many as three fingers in this state at one time.

"Perhaps ten years later I began again to suffer from the same trouble. Again I tried various remedies, among them a prescription from a doctor of a friend of mine, who had suffered from a like trouble. This seemed to help somewhat for a time, but it was not a permanent cure; next tried a prescription from my own doctor, but this was so irritating to the sensitive. diseased skin that I could not use it I began to use Cutlcura Soap and Ointment. I had used the Cuticura Ointment previously on my children's scalps with good effect. I did not use the Soap exclusively, but I rubbed the Cuticura Ointment into the base of the nail every night thoroughly, and as often beside as I could. I had not used it but a few weeks before my nails were better, and in a short time they were apparently well. There was no more suppuration, nor inflammation, the nails grew out clean again. One box of Cuticura Ointment was all that I used in effecting a cure." (Signed) Mrs. I. J. Horton, Katonah, N. Y., Apr. 13, 1910. On Sept. 21, Mrs. Horton wrote: "I have had no further return of the trouble with my finger nails."
